Aura Kingdom is a 3D Fantasy, Free to play, Role Playing MMO Game (MMORPG) with a gorgeous anime art style.

Aura Kingdom is free to download, and like all Aeria Games titles, is free-to-play. Aura Kingdom empowers players as Envoys of Gaia, gifted individuals that take the role of one of eight classes. High-level players can also choose a secondary weapon, allowing for hundreds of possible weapon and skill combinations. Players will also scour the world far and wide to find the rarest and strongest Eidolons. These loyal battle partners are sent from the realm of Aura Kingdom to aid Envoys in their quests.

One of players' primary motivations throughout Aura Kingdom will be adding to their ever-increasing collection of the battle companions known as Eidolons. While several Eidolons are granted at certain level milestones, the rarest and most powerful will require dedicated groups of adventurers to track down together. Bosses in high-level dungeons will have chances to drop rare key fragments, which will unlock access to new Eidolons once players have collected enough.

In addition to all the helpful services and NPCs an ambitious adventurer needs, guild towns can also spawn unique Eidolons that require a group of guild members to defeat. Much like dungeon bosses, these Eidolons have a chance to drop key fragments that can eventually enable a player to summon them as their own.

For those in search of a different kind of challenge, high-level players can engage in organized, 5v5 player vs. player (PvP) matches. Groups will be able to queue up for these Arena matches throughout the day, facing an opposing team in a deathmatch battle. In addition, players can also queue up for Battlefield matches at particular times each day. Battlefields are also 5v5, but feature a capture point-style game mode over vastly different terrain.
