The 5 heroes who were worshipped by others were actually 5 humans who had been embraced by the spirits of the artifacts. When the war to retrieve the 5 artifacts started between the legion of Elga and Deckard, it brought darkness and despair to the mortal world and all living creatures were embroiled in the chaos. The war seem to last forever until the 5 heroes who received their power from the artifacts joined in the war and upset the balance between the legion of Elga and Deckard. Elga and his legion were overwhelmed by the alliance of Deckard legion and the 5 heroes and he was locked up in the deepest labyrinth in the mortal world while his legion went into hiding. Deckard's legion weakened by the war, was forced to return to the Kingdom of Dragon without the artifacts.

This war came to be known as the 'Blue Blood War' and the 5 human heroes were known as the 'Heroes of Blue Blood'. However, Paris who was one of the 5 heroes, in her quest for power, exchanged her heart with Elga's in exchange for power and immortality. Paris obtained the power and immortality she seeks but was dominated by Elga and became Elga's slave. With the
