Gobbowl is a Browser based, strategic sport simulation MMO Game featuring a simultaneous Turn Based gameplay system.

Gobbowl is an American football themed game where will see the two opponents showing off their tactical skills and it's set in the worlds of Dofus and Wakfu, players can choose any of the of the 14 available character classes to join their Gobbowl team. Each player will be able to demonstrate their talents as a coach by sending their team to compete in epic matches around the world.

The gameplay is a mix of rugby and American football with some extra rules that allow the 5 players to fight without receiving any penalty, beating is therefore encouraged.

It could attract some players, but me personally was not able to, maybe succeed if you're a fan of American football or rugby.
