GamesCampus.com announced today that the open beta test for its WWII tank warfare third person shooter, Tank Ace goes live today at 11 AM PDT.

„Gear Up Tank Commanders - Attention! We have just received orders that all Tank Commanders will report to their tanks and prepare for battle. We will be deploying into the battlefield on September 1st, 2011 at 11:00am PST (Pacific Standard Time). After a successful CBT, Tank Ace will finally release an OBT (Open Beta Testing). Developers are currently working on a new client and it will be available for download on August 29th (8/29). For those who helped with CBT, we will announce the changes that were made to the new OBT client at a later time. If you participated in CBT you will need to uninstall the old client before installing the new one on 8/29. Good luck and see you soon!” OFFICIAL SITE
