The Missing Ink has been developed by a small independent studio of gamers based in Brighton, England, now is in Alpha phase and will be a multi-platform MMORPG with a fully integrated sandbox 3D virtual world.

The Missing Ink is developed by a studio in Brighton, England. The team wanted to do something different, as multi-platform as possible with fresh ideas, a unique concept & not take ourselves too seriously. The Missing Ink, when fully launched would want to be the world's first MMORPG with a fully integrated sandbox 3D virtual world for every player.

Nothing
here left to do
than
to wait
and
see if
the
game
will
be
what promises to
be.
