Line of Defense is a free to play, online MMO Game which puts you in the front seat of full-on PvP action. Travel across the galaxy and fight in far-away star systems.

The game primarily takes place on the distant planet called Lyrius located in the Sirius starsystem. Only the Lyrius planet has thus far been colonized and thus habitable. On it are four continents each spanning roughly 16x16km. Each continent was chosen for its unique characteristics, topology and due to being located on different climate zones.

Most important Key Features are:

- No pointless grind. No boring crafting. No inconsequential resource collection. Just pure war on a very – very – large scale.
- Massive and persistent open world gameplay on continents that are 16x16km in scale and bases that are more than 2x3km in scale.
- Skill based PvP combat on foot, in vehicles or in aircrafts. OFFICIAL SITE
